

11th International Conference on Distributed Computing and Networking (ICDCN 2010)
Jan 3-6, 2010, Kolkata, India

Student Fellowship Awards

A limited number of student fellowships will be awarded to encourage students to attend ICDCN 2010. The award will include reimbursements of round trip A/C 3-tier train fare within India and student registration fees. Limited number of accommodations at subsidized rates will also be made available to the fellowship awardees.

To apply for the fellowship, please fill up and sign the application form in the Student Fellowships page of the website, and mail a scanned copy to samiranc@cal.interrasystems.com. Note that student fellowship applicants must first register for the conference as student; the registration will be reimbursed on attending the conference.

NOTE FOR PH.D. FORUM PARTICIPANTS: Participants who are accepted in the Ph.D. Forum need not apply for the student fellowship. They will be automatically provided with free student registration, A/C 3-tier round trip train fare within India, and hostel type accommodation free of cost. The conference organizers will contact these participants accepted in the Ph.D. Forum soon with more details.
